Teachings on Salvation and Harmonious Development Technologies of Reality Management at the Creator's level Self-Assembly Technology (11)

In this lecture on my system of Salvation and harmonious development I demonstrate the technology that allows you through your own self-assembly to build both a harmonious Reality and secondly to do it in such a way so that after self-assembly Reality harmoniously develops naturally i.e. the point of the technology is precisely not only to self-assemble but also to make this self-assembly at the level

Soul
Spirit
Consciousness of all the elements of your Reality has brought about so that in the future Reality naturally evolve in such a way and allowed in its development to form such systems that would allow for the learning of others from your self-assembly either directly or indirectly through a system of shared connections in order to realize this technology in your Consciousness it is necessary first of all to assemble your own Consciousness so in this connection the element of assembling one's own Consciousness it occurs as an element Well it's quite ordinary at first i.e. Consciousness means what you perceive there Well there's the doors the windows the surroundings and that's where this element comes in that you perceive also the self-generated entities of people in the process of self-assembly you have to look at it that way because self-assembly is both self-organization and self-creation and acting exactly as the Creator does

And in this regard I've specifically highlighted like the door and the windows some kind of reproduced systems there by people and are not systems of active development and therefore dynamic entities that organize people are elements of people's consciousness that are constantly actually self-assembling them i.e. the World can be rigidly criterionally divided on the one hand these are systems reproduced on the other hand You know doors and windows for example and notice why I say window doors That is what is open to the external system

I even give an example of these systems first these are the structures of Consciousness in this area of self-assembly every object carries a consequence openness to an external system A window is an exit somewhere Yes ♪ like a door is an exit somewhere ♪

And so the self-developing entities is a system of elements of another Consciousness it looks like a peculiar white vortex which is located approximately in the area of for example the physical body of a human being but in this case of the human physical body you are not yet considering in this system of Consciousness the identification of the physical body It doesn't exist

so in the next element you're going vertically downward from a geometric point for example which is an element of that Thinking that I'm talking about right now you go down and then you can clearly see the human body so the distance between the first point and the other point which is vertically below is the Spirit

i.e. the reproduced spiritual system of man
that is man himself in the physical body and here you see that in this process you're working from your Soul so now I've got a point or even more of an area that can be called organization of Consciousness from your Soul

It's where the Soul organizes the Consciousness

Of course I've taken this as a point in terms of going more towards Consciousness and now we're going deeper into the Soul system There are areas of Perception of Consciousness they're restructured So you're not perceiving images

It's the same door and the same window it's assembled by the Soul so in the picture of Consciousness it looks like this that it's like part of the door Yeah The top part of the door is already kind of leaking out and the window may have dissipated because you can still walk out the door a person can walk out the door and it is a system that exists longer in the organization of the Soul

As you go lower you see a different picture that everything exists in a very static way

I mean a door is a door a window is a window but their position in the Soul is different

The window may be closer the door may be an infinite distance from Consciousness and that's where you find the point of Consciousness in the Soul just as all information intersects with all just as naturally the Soul that reproduces Consciousness contains Consciousness in the point area as well and this is where a peculiar discovery is made as a sign of creativity in poets scientists etc occurs that they unpack a system of Consciousness in the Soul that they already know it looks like an upward surge That's really what's happening you go deeper into the Soul like when Mendeleev was sleeping there there's stories like that he kind of calmed down and went down and then the unpacking happens at this point in the Consciousness like a goal unpacking when there's a goal In this case the goal is Macro Salvation Saving everyone and then the takeoff looks like a sudden upward surge like a kind of float i.e. Soul is a high density It's unpacking here and it's pushing upwards the power of Consciousness

So the force of Consciousness is giving birth at the same time an element of Consciousness at the same time i.e. Consciousness reproduces itself

So it's clear in this way why there are mechanisms why the body exists that this is the Law of that Reality that certain processes are placed to spatially regulate Reality i.e. there's a window in one place for Consciousness a door in another place in the Soul and we find the point of Consciousness from here

But then the question arises let's say why the term that "in the beginning was the Word" it explains the reverse principle of organization from external Reality we designate for example by the word yes reproduce and then Consciousness is organized There's a door it exists in this process before we call the door but when we say door that is we designate a door at that distance in the Soul is from the Consciousness a window at this distance we first designate and so we get the word from somewhere and this is the principle of word organization it is exactly what it is the principle of organization of the Soul at the point of manifestation of actions

For example the Hindus had it in ancient times when the Hindus let's say were just beginning to develop the ideology of self-knowledge there was such a mechanism

Look carefully at their way of self-discovery on their own they had self-development from rest i.e. rest gave birth to an image image gave birth to action action gave birth to an event and in this case the maximum point of rest is where where Consciousness has a concentrated system in the Soul and it turns out that when you are in that state you can reproduce Reality because you know where it's happening where it's happening as the birth of Reality and why by listening to this lecture several times it will be clearly revealed especially in target management and secondly you can see quite clearly all future events which can be regulated in principle so it's a control system a powerful control system for future events and for example even past events if you want You just have to look at it the other way around

Now you're looking in front of you and if you look behind your back behind your spine it will be past events

And it turns out that here you are practically all around you you see and feel the Universe I mean all of Reality there's stars in the sky and so on you see that it's you so it's just that point and it's focused somewhere on the lower boundary of the heart that it's on the substance as a tissue system that you see all of Reality

So starting at the lower border of the heart you begin to put yourself together from the point of view of all the stars there in the galaxies of the universes that surrounds the starry sky you for example in the optical range

And so you begin to collect yourself

The question arises There was no optical range before yes before everyone was assembled where these stars were Then you take another step you go beyond the information of the stars i.e. beyond them and you see clearly the whole structure of the self-assembly

I mean going beyond the stars beyond them Yes in the optical range you see the whole structure of self-assembly from the point of view of your remote consciousness so what you see is just a fragment of your Consciousness a fragment of your consciousness that gives birth to the same stars the same Reality and when you look at it it's a kind of block structure There's the starry sky your Consciousness

And then what's next? Yes

And then the Creator who organizes to you certain corridors of communication along which you can walk and there's certain formations passing around you that are no longer physical stars and you enter an element of Reality that is born at a very slow rate

So being born at a very small speed is an indication that at this point is the whole of Reality that encompasses the source of birth

I mean here I've just brought you guys to an area that really exists and was created by the Creator and this is the beginning of the development of matter

So what you're seeing next all the principles of self-organization of the Creator already in your Consciousness i.e. the principle of organization is the real feeling and vision of Reality and plus the principle of reflection in your Consciousness in the form of logic in the form of Laws hence word is the Consciousness's reproduction reflection of the true Reality and so when we say for example that that a word creates also an element of Consciousness like a door or a window we say that then Reality is created harmoniously because the word "door" does not exist without the fact that someone created the door For example a person created the door then we can say that the human being is recreated also because that we get a person from the door

So if we look then where the Creator is present yes in the activity of man we can see that it is clear here that the Creator creates man and through the door i.e. the reverse path of development it's as general as the forward path For the Creator there is no concept of "back and forth"

I mean in this lecture it's important to define very clearly where is the level that is equivalent to moving forward thoughts that backwards

the principle of self-creation is a single point where there is no movement

And so when I talked about the concept of rest I meant that we are in an area which absolutely means motionless in terms of all the elements of the outer and inner world and that point is the point of self-creation

So I've brought you to the point of self-creation simply by concentrating even on which you're reproducing the whole outer and inner Reality absolutely all of it and in doing so you even feel quite clearly that like the boundaries of the body then they become so that you see everything and not just individually like perceiving your own body

So the perception of your own body is an accumulation of external levels of control i.e. the stars the Earth all the elements of Reality they create this density which is called a body and accordingly setting the elements of Eternity to all outside sources you form your body but you can do the opposite at this point making your body Eternal you make them eternal so the principle is very clear and very simple

So this is the end of this lecture the main motives and provisions here are expressed in words and without words

It's a kind of lecture where it's both at the same time

Well it often happens that part of it is in words and the rest of the main part without words or vice versa Yes

Here it is very important that it is done at the same time

When listening to a lecture you have to feel it

If possible it is better to feel it in different ways if you suddenly realize yourself when you start to feel it that you for example have the same feeling as the other person try to do it in your own way if possible and then pass the experience on to them

So that would be a system of experience transfer within the framework of this technology and for the sustainability of this lecture try to practice more with self-organization

with self-creation

i.e. you can do external control but if possible do it first through yourself
You can control by just doing yourself but you can transfer the same principle transfer to external control but in this case it's better to do it more with yourself with your information and when you're at the point where you feel you see you can just see all these stars all these stars all these universes and you're in a certain center of some kind see what that center is actually moving dynamically upwards all the time that is development i.e. development is how it is perceived by the Consciousness but these are details The main objective of the lecture is self-creation self-assembly self-creation and the ability to spread the knowledge to others as many as possible you know other variations of Perceptions
