The Teaching about God Happiness of Eternal Development 26.12.2005

The topic of my seminar today this is my Teaching about God The Happiness of Eternal Development in this topic i show need for work it is precisely in the structure of understanding that for example, what is the difference between happiness and Eternal development from for example let's assume "just happiness" and no concept in this case, when this concept is declared and there are criteria that, for example, by many signs are considered most appropriate or more acceptable even for an ordinary person then we show the necessity of Eternal Development from the point of view of just human happiness i.e. the topic is relevant because here we have the possibility of actually introducing technology as the concept of "happiness of Eternal development" i.e. introduce both technology and develop on the one hand and on the other hand we are thus we attract, so to speak people to Eternal development due to the fact that a person working on the very concept of "happiness of Eternal development" exactly as if creating happiness it actually has no gap between the current happiness i.e., it kind of "pulls in" the control system due to the fact that that his personal there can be called so "concrete happiness" expressed in something concrete translates into understanding what is the happiness of Eternal development i.e. happiness as a system of knowledge of Eternal development for example a person is happy to one situation or many but like a kind of lens after he like this is the level of happiness here it is on the information it is like some information which has a specific geometric manifestation for example, happiness in a number of certain situations this is the area of control and then through this certain lens ^{yes} through some projection he can see the happiness of Eternal development i.e. he perceives Eternal development as an organic component of nature for his inner world but as soon as it moves to the level of naturalness he really gets into Eternal Development i.e. he ^{kind of} pulls himself into the structure of the future and this future is clear to him moreover, he wants it because happiness is understandable to a person and the happiness of Eternal development what difference does it make whether it is happiness or ^{not} as if an area of some kind of adhesion of some information or contact it is practically inseparable i.e. in this technology here is the transition level from a finite quantity to an infinite one practically not expressed at all this is the advantage of this particular technology in terms of the truly real Eternal development human and a lighthouse appears in front of him it is the happiness of Eternal development and he actually fixes it in Eternity i.e. the person gets there into a very ^{generally} rigid system of governance which by the way allows you to sometimes not allow it very colossal, ^{as if} external sometimes unnecessary control systems ^{yes} i.e. it allows to avoid serious problems which may be approaching in the forecast, etc.

i.e. it is a powerful containment system some negative unnecessary management because he recorded it

and that's all
and it cannot be moved from any side because this system is autonomous happiness autonomous region and it is fixed on this system he hardly ever goes out Well as if it even reaches the level of external contact he decides everything within the framework of generating his ideas ^{yes} inside your happiness the truth of Eternal development and it turns out that then he is invulnerable in relation to that's exactly what external influence is and if there are some opinions that there is an impact from some people ^{there} someone looked at it the wrong way, etc. then this system allows block very strongly these are the levels of Thinking what can be damaged by some external action with this technology it looks almost unreal because external development is infinite from the point of view of that if it is even more happy then how in general in the structure of happiness some influence may intrude this in itself is self-defense ^{for a person} and it turns out that based on from this control context here is the main thing in this management work it out

Well, first of all, the mechanism of happiness as such is Eternal what is happiness in Eternity

Well, basically it's the same thing just the ability to find in an Infinitely Evolving Environment elements of happiness and this skill is like this what is sought every time the fundamental law here is the expression of happiness i.e. for example there already at some distance yes from the level of the primary impulse of Consciousness

specifically geometrically literally right here, there, almost at arm's length there is a level of contact exactly like this, like an understandable local happiness , yes or there is a private or famous one with primary with the primary level of Light namely the happiness of Eternal development i.e., for example, a person can imagine it like this he stretched out his hand like this there completely yes Well let's say I extend my arm fully and here is something unexpected it may come into contact with something Well, if there is an air environment further on, that's understandable but the outstretched hand says that that a person has the opportunity to have well, some unknown quantity i.e. it is up to the level of full extraction of the value controls the situation yes as if a system of local happiness and then he can touch in principle and with Eternal happiness i.e. here is an analogy of Spiritual action and the body for God there are often elements of compatibility Body Spirit and Personality expressed in a single action where there is no differentiation for a person where is the action of the body yes where there is the action of the Spirit where is the action actually well as if it were another person Here

i.e. in happiness a person has a bright Light he often does not differentiate the corners of the rooms as if Well, they become more "soft" yes bright light of happiness i.e. differentiation decreases and when for example happiness to see God happiness is to understand God this is a great creative level where God Himself may not be perceived, for example God pointing there i.e. He is the opposite, the God who gave happiness it is the joy of His presence of such a God and he, the man, begins to do already personally some action i.e. it is freedom of choice, he chooses personally there is help to God to follow God's orders but then he gets there specifically into the system for example there is happiness of Eternal development because it just does the job i.e. to get into this happiness you can use the usual one as if in a routine trivial way set a task and achieve it and so the person somehow got into this information is there that he experiences yes at this moment there is information there is, let's assume, some development of the situation but the usual state can be there too i.e. a person lives there in the same way i.e. naturally to get this very concept

"happiness as such" let's say Yes in terms of regardless of any situations but this will already be somewhat like that , actually Well is this a strained situation or something ?

A person can't just be happy like that it must be absolutely harmonious or expressed there in achieving something maybe he got it there element of happiness starts working again yes until he gets the next thing this is what he liked maybe his happiness is just a result this is happiness

but he doesn't express it in words there, etc.

i.e. there are many signs of happiness so here is the level of Infinite some level of confidence and in a state of rest says that he controls happiness namely Eternal development

i.e. God is happy because Reality is controllable and she is in a state of seemingly calm control i.e. as a person He is happy when everything is calm, there are no disasters, etc. i.e. here is happiness from Perception as if the action of the external environment

it's the same for humans this is when God perceives the external world as a structure of Personal happiness when the world exists and is not destroyed yes there is no tendency to destroy the world or at least he did something right that the world there has fewer opportunities locally even collapse i.e. I mean when God from a human point of view, it seems so then it turns out that we can see Action of God

as an Action which is also very subtle i.e. in the structure of precisely the happiness of Eternal development that's exactly why God's presence is often not revealed precisely in some one-time action i.e. God is perceived as well as the Creator, yes that certain level of Action for a person where again there is complete freedom of human will is expressed in the happiness of others as well i.e. a person simply cannot be happy as a rule, the thought always arises but who would even accept this ?

a person can be happy of course but imagine that he is somewhere always happy and even if it is an uninhabited island there are still some trees there and it interacts somehow in the external world system i.e. he shows it to someone i.e. happiness is not an internal value it's like an extrapolation i.e. when the external quantity is obtained when a person understands what is the primary level of happiness it is visible to everyone and the next one is a deep internal level here God shows

differs in that that the internal and external level are the same thing

happiness is happiness This is a single control element and that's when a person combines deep inner happiness with external happiness well as if for everyone yes for all phenomena of Reality and first of all for people tell someone about your happiness, etc.

and this combination happens just like God does in terms of development i.e. when happiness organizes some elements of Reality for example Yes i.e. here it turns out that from the elements of happiness arises practically very rigid matrix structure of the external world i.e. the world can hold on precisely for the happiness of people's development it is clear that it is better if the world is built exactly happy people ^{yes} further development of the World it's logically clear and when do we start This is the area of information to explore we see that the matrix itself i.e. it is not actually even at the level of logical action i.e. the logic of the Spirit is such a phenomenon that manifests itself here that the logic is Spiritual, i.e., as if static Analytical Spirit which speaks about that that yes, the construction of the World is visible but as if around these cells i.e. it is a kind of supporting matrix which is created by man himself and indeed that is how a person sees it namely the development structure your own happiness as a level that he still brings to the action this is how you can say it when can a person be happy Well, when the World and its Perceptions when he feels good there but to a greater extent when he himself has personally achieved something and he realized something there that it is precisely his creativeness that endures then it's for everyone when there is no disadvantaged side in the grand scheme of things and when you start structuring that's exactly it Consciousness control in the area that you get wow as if further and prolonged happiness how is happiness there in the form of God then you start to see what is between you and God almost docking level at the level of knowledge SO to speak Yes is contained only in your physical body i.e. this is the line of knowledge God and you she touches the optics directly it is clearly revealed touches directly physical body comes into contact with this control optics and the optics are stationary and external you are somehow located in a state like in an airplane seat, yes in a state of sorts of rest i.e. you are moving at high speed but at the same time it is a fixing situation and it turns out that your physical body in this case directly interacts with God contact way there information with contact in fact it is not just information and again some matrix value which is such that is organized around it this whole outside world and we can see how when moving to the human body in general yes here is some information for example happiness the whole external world is created i.e. the building if we look at the point Well there, 15 centimeters from the skin of the body For example there from the chest 's as if the building hadn't been created yet we are starting to approach the building is being created yes i.e. we see how Reality is changing depending on our action it is quite a strong element there are organ creations you can even reduce the weight of large structures there i.e. this is a fairly serious control system where happiness is revealed in a neutral value in the form of an optical control phase which means it is actually an instrument of action and here you can identify the system of internal transformations of Reality

Well, every person watched that there can be one state and instantly as if well, some kind of different state i.e. a person's happiness can be very enormous but he can get distracted, right?

image perception he can write something and then how to put into the concept of "happiness" that he writes something there routinely this is a different state but a more global state of happiness this is a transition

Well, if he writes creatively and it brings him happiness write

that's another question and here he got it for example, a person writes and sits there

Well, he fills out a receipt for payment of utility services, that's right then happiness befalls him such a practical example there is a telephone conversation but he continues to write, he got distracted what's so happy about paying for utilities i.e. it turns out that he has in the structure of happiness abrupt transition systems in information i.e. neutral information interacts with information well as if stormy happiness yes but as I explained now in the elements of happiness there is continuity of information there , let's say, the glow passes into the human body, yes from God directly interaction of the human body and God at the level of the environment which is neutral after all here is the transition of information of happiness in this form to fill out there are utilities in Sberbank for example this is still information as if a continuation of happiness i.e. what do you perceive that is what is lucky for you at the moment this is the first element in the difference ordinary happiness and happiness of Eternal development this is a specific difference, I have outlined it Well, it's kind of a non-fundamental difference but it's still a difference any element even neutral is lucky and when you learn to reveal this Reality then it is clear that the transition is as if to you at the level there, let's assume, of an organic system and action there you got a lucky impulse but you recognized the neutrality of the system i.e. universality in fact neutrality towards you and from you this is already universality and when do you start universal action develop you think why not become there there another person is just as happy

Well, here you are, alive and well and you make universality universal the world is developing from you then you can resurrect there for example Yes analogy with you the man is alive and well you can well using it turns out like the body as a kind of converter of information we come to the conclusion that the physical body this is actually God's happiness and the maximum

i.e. happiness does not itself create information as I indicated there are elements of happiness that are like this that the World is created around them we have just observed the situation what is this happening through the physical body of a person

the real creation of the physical World is already underway but the substrate itself is like the root of the whole World this is the man himself then it's clear the physical world grows around it but we looked into it in the action of uniting internal and external happiness, so to speak i.e. the World is created by the happiness of God and man we're already moving on , so to speak to a more philosophical, more distant system yes more sparse control and here it is enough to change concepts to do external or internal management i.e. here you can simply work with words and we get the level of management accomplishment those. here are the controls for example, it becomes more concentrated we can just insert a word that let it be sparse

i.e. let there be more events or there they will be as if scattered to different points and they spread word in structure as if well, such somewhat universal environment or something where the active element is happiness i.e. it is not the control information itself namely the element of action well, it's like some kind of mechanism there is a car and is there a mechanism that drives it yes and this mechanism of action when it becomes happiness we take and isolate happiness as a pure substrate in the form of a specific example there is energy, information, etc.

i.e. in the system of Eternal development happiness is the driving mechanism it turns out [...] is correct so that a man may live forever Well of course it would be desirable for it to be there best thing is to be happy all the time at least he should learn organize your own happiness Well, it's not necessary that he's there every day but at least he should set a goal and achieve it therefore, this is precisely the implementation here is the final value in the concept of "happiness of Eternal development" this is when a person sets a primary goal achieve something yes or maybe he doesn't set the task on purpose experience happiness or person for example there he lay down on the sofa and lies there experiencing happiness that's kind of enough Well in general, in general, a speculative construction I mean there is real happiness there when he controls all of Reality although you can do this while lying on the couch introduce happiness management but it will be like external control to oneself yes and God gives everyone a combination full Reality and what happens to a person in general i.e. True happiness This is True Total Control this is calm control and the commission within the framework of control over the whole Reality performing some of one's own personal actions Well, first of all, there is Macrosalvation, naturally.

and that's when he begins to see this element of development here a rather fundamental point arises that here is Macrosalvation in the structure namely Eternal and happiness of Eternal development this element becomes quite manageable from the point of view of this as far as the level of action and to the Macrosalvation system everything is decided there, i.e. there will be no problems, there will definitely be no disasters

i.e. from the information of happiness very strongly removed this is the level where some problem is possible or or for example there is even more of a macro disaster yes those. Macro disaster against the background of any element of happiness begins to decrease in size of action i.e. the structure of the force action is sharply reduced Well in general Well like this negative information i.e. well, people notice quite often that when they are happy They have a very developed, as it were, external Reality and in general, happiness is precisely expressed that the external Reality is internal there she is harmoniously built

there is infinite harmony and this is Perception The endless line of actually happiness this is the tracking of all external connections everything that exists in the world how is it related to you let it be in the form of some linear lines again there are matrices there yes some stripes they look like some stripes by the way well in plastic expression on information they are felt as some are even closer to plastic strips i.e. fairly dense information

Why exactly this plastic one? option for rigidity highlighted yes allocated density is high so you can compare it there theoretically take plastic on information perceive and take this system, they are similar in appearance even and because here we must to concentrate happiness so much well, that is, the sensory level should be just as compressed that the system becomes neutral and then this is a matrix system of organizing the World at the same time, happiness is not lost in any way it is inside i.e. the more we concentrate happiness the more precise the control becomes but happiness is kind of stormy or something let's say so it just goes into the internal system and we see on an internal level then we have an Infinite level of distribution from any external control yes from any system of the World to you goes in a continuous stream some knowledge that these elements are precisely at rest that they are harmonized there or vice versa no yes but happiness is expressed when they are harmonized here these lines they are calm any element of the world is possible in this system it is precisely to count This is the most powerful system of precisely controlling clairvoyance and it works very simply or you enter as an element of Consciousness into this structure and you can any element of the World in the structure of a happy action i.e. you have control right away it's not just a viewing and you instantly add yours your management so here in the happiness of Eternal development your primary control always has Infinite action for example, to resurrect quickly, let's say you have to be very happy for the resurrected one well, i.e. happiness should be mutual , yes man resurrected this is a very great happiness for everyone including for the one who is engaged in resurrection and it turns out that this is exactly it system of unification of people there is a system of collegial level of people's actions from the point of view of some kind of target level i.e. it is clear that when everyone has happiness then the action is correct the happiness of achieving some result there, etc. together

so happiness is also a kind of organizer social, that's clear ideas of society when they are realized a collective system of happiness emerges and therefore, so that society in the Infinite level developed and well, harmoniously and creatively so that there are no wars there, etc. we must highlight by the structure of the event structure of development the entire civilization of the entire world precisely the level of collegial happiness so the happiness of Eternal development is precisely in this case it differs in that that the collegial happiness of one-time actions it's like a concentrated sphere basically well, some symbol and information that's exactly it this is a special case when and when exactly the Eternal development we see it as happiness the whole Reality in general the difference is that it's ^{like} an internal surface The infinite sphere of all events i.e. we find ourselves in the center of the World and any element of Reality is perceived as happiness any

then it turns out that he at the level of generally speaking information logic
we will overcome i.e. in terms of management it is quite calm everyone has noticed that the happiness that comes to you this is a controlled variable you can be happy, you can just take a break be completely within the bounds of one's desires manage this construction ^{yes} Reality i.e. happiness is preserved there it moves to some area geometrically even pressure is experienced or is it somehow transformed ^{there} but you always have the opportunity ^{how} to change the controls and it turns out that when you get exactly this level on your physical body then you see that here is the Eternity of the body it is ^{like} a level of reverse happiness from the body to the World i.e. Eternal Peace ^{is there let's say} has the same sign as a person happiness ^{yes} the man was born he has happiness in relation to the outside world i.e. to nature to people first of all to people then to all elements of Reality and ^{therefore} the outside world there must be some comparable system of Reality i.e. as if for a person this is joy and happiness and what about the outside world then a person perceives the external world and the outside world it seems to envelop a person from all sides, yes that means the whole outside world what a person calls happiness he has this man the usual logic of reverse analysis as if Yes and it turns out that means happiness for the outside world is a person for any system of Reality and if for example you have an element of happiness you try to restructure it as little as possible Well as if you cherish and try not to make any pressing actions It's better to have more happiness Well, it's like it's inherent in a person from the start, yes from God

here is the presence of God in what He showed what in the form of knowledge in the form of real actions that it is advisable not to touch your own happiness let it be preserved it kind of goes without saying You don't even need education here what is good about the happiness management system there is no need to explain here that you shouldn't destroy your own happiness if possible and so it's clear, but without knowledge, as it were here is the education system without any long systems of knowledge transfer it's quite convenient take for example by the way, a very practical control mechanism for a person to implement the control structure take the result and wrap it in a system of happiness

and he doesn't move the structure in any way in space it is being realized by him and it turns out that when the entire outside world perceives like a type of human happiness the man himself then it turns out that he is not aggressive towards him i.e. he kind of cherishes it and tries not to touch it, yes then it turns out that the external structure let it be a stone, a tree, a completely different person, etc. everything is going very well all a person has to do is get into this management he begins to see that this is precisely the happiness of Eternal development when the outside world is not aggressive i.e. the external world is generally perceived

Well let's say there are two happy people and one still won't try interrupt another's happiness if he is very happy at that moment i.e. he doesn't have time and he's busy there there with your happiness and that's all it also turns out that this is the version of the outside world in this case it is like this which does not arise in any object of the external World cause trouble for a person not for a person on the contrary this is actually a very harmonious system arises yes in management and that's when a person gets to the essence in its own way, precisely in the happiness of Eternal development he sees the state of God as if in a single Action for everyone and for myself i.e. he begins to discern the state of God God is happy when He for everyone and for myself does some kind of single general work

Well, for example, there is only one God but here's what N has the element of loneliness has disappeared in human perception or even stand in your own this is where the unity of the perception of God and man lies the concept of "loneliness" is the same for them between God and man and when, for example, God, for example, begins to do One Action for All there is joy for all people there and for Himself then he shows it to the person shades of their human state i.e. a person begins to recognize and when is god happy i.e. what he does is right yes i.e. you can read happiness on a person's face and say that another person who brought him happiness does it right

This is a very practical mechanism. from the point of view of knowledge how to find out from God whether a person is doing the right thing or not if he sees God's happy face so the person is doing the right thing yes Well at least there's a happy face, let's say and then it turns out there is no need to ask for a long time there is a man with God is the person doing the right thing there first of all, at least ask a question this is already a colossal amount of frequent management yes

It's not so easy to get the question across to God as if at the level of physics or phenomena there at the level of telepathy or there at the level of the Soul's action and it turns out that here in this mechanism it is very convenient to gain knowledge it is enough to just react as if to God's facial expressions on His state of Soul

something starts to happen Well, that's not the right way to express yourself less active yes it means something needs to be improved make god happy again in simple terms and like this kind of option of mutual control says that it is precisely in the happiness of Eternal development the transfer of information occurs completely directly Well as if it were a self-evident factor dissemination of information well, that is, no one moves it The world is happy , it does not touch man the machine doesn't destroy a person there and from him comes an impulse of natural happiness i.e. a person finds himself in a completely free environment in action in normal operation

because pay attention to the concentration of happiness i.e. the external system always shows level of freedom

Well, that's how even the information itself is structured , so to speak that the more concentrated the system is somewhere the more accurately the place is visible where the system has a free outlet yes from such a Reality

i.e. the person is very happy always has light when he can take the process for example there naturally he can stop it yes but the concept of "happiness" is like this that there is a very powerful external influence i.e. the person is happy but it is precisely to instantly interrupt the state of happiness it is often not possible because happiness and man are one the matter of happiness and man this is one begins to see the inextricable connection the original matter of the World and myself

i.e. what actually happens a person in a state of happiness falls into the original structure of the world order where, for example, there is no other information besides all people taken together keep in mind this is very clear information i.e. there are no elements of Reality except people and then the person understands that in this state he is always healthy for the simple reason that a very large number of people but they are all healthy but why should it be different? when there is no one but people he can't perceive anything else i.e. collegiality uniting for common goals yes

gives health gives Eternal life and people living nearby i.e. he perceives, for example there are only people there they give him the opportunity to mean It is precisely the Eternal Development that is really possible to do because he perceives the people who are around him and he believes that this is how it is in the system of Perception i.e. it should be like this Forever yes i.e. here is a very simple principle if there is a person and another person Eternity is virtually assured as an information environment as Reality, etc.

So God created man so that Eternity may be manifested yes Eternity of God
i.e. He had to show it to someone there i.e.

and therefore it turns out that for a person it is similar if he perceives correctly one person

just like all people i.e. he makes no distinctions between one person and all people then he is happy it turns out yes this is also how God treats people for Him that one that's all it's the same

the task of one is the same tasks if they are there no more sometimes yes for a person than the tasks of all of them together for God it is exactly the same thing from a human point of view when he helps others there everyone he should sort of differentiate there that they have it more difficult well, except for some absolutely critical cases when it is clear that something is bad or something is good on average for a person highlight one person's problem It can be even more difficult, i.e. more work needs to be done to compensate for it than when they are together and because together they help each other yes this is how a person thinks so that's how it turns out God because with God it is the same

that there are many people that all people taken together

Once again here I recommend paying attention what when the level of such Well, human and Infinite happiness is like that that man and all others are people there are no other phenomena of Reality then we have already come to that that man and man this is already enough the main thing is to treat each other equally i.e. it is comparable then one person can pass on all the knowledge to another person and one person directly contacts God this means he has all the knowledge of Eternal development which means it turns out to be enough just for one person and it turns out that Eternal development exists yes but then we come to the point that even if he is alone at all in the phenomena of all nature there let's say there does not know somewhere on a desert island doesn't know that there are other civilizations there Well, that's how I was born and that 's how it was somehow, geometrically, it turned out like this Well For example there is some version of Mowgli there then it turns out that here already the next action that he alone is still happy but he just has a task have the next person next to you Well how to create or meet, etc.

because it is his natural vector of development only one he must have the next person in sight then he sees happiness then he develops Eternally i.e. it moves synchronously with the initial level of a kind of charge of Eternal development what God gave him

i.e. a person has only one path this is an increase in the number of people Well, this is a more global conclusion, but it really is like that i.e. a person will strive all the time to an increase in the number of people namely people all over the world and that's why the state and society are like this which is not fighting there for example Yes supports precisely the system of people's lives Well, when they fight, they try to stop the war.

because in general a person strives all the time to the life of another person and that is how God created governance that the happiness of Eternal development essentially for the majority of people this is life and it is Eternal another person i.e. Eternal happiness this is the Eternal life of another person it turns out that the person is happy in Eternal development when he provides for another person namely Eternal life Well, that's what we do with you i.e. we provide management of Eternal life to any other person so we are here in the structure of precisely the Eternal development we can attract enthusiasts and volunteers ^{here} technologists and all people who are interested in such a process of development of Reality but those people, ^{let's say}, who are not interested or don't know we can just meet on everything in fact, their simple natural development they will still be pulled towards the development of the next person i.e. to the same lighthouse ^{yes} they will join anyway, albeit later but they will still do the same thing here therefore in the happiness of Eternal development we can show that we are not in a hurry there we will teach there anyway Let everyone live forever because this criterion is a kind of beacon, a landmark he is still alone this is the Infinite Eternal life of people and a happy one at that i.e. a healthy person, etc., etc.

he has a system being implemented it is not necessary that he perceives every second there he may be working there for a long time and implementation is taking place but here the question is precisely well, personal perception and when a person is there he is always happy Well, God willing, it means it's right such a person, well, created such a management system for himself or is it even like that so that's when the question is "created" or "is" this is often the case for an outside observer these are different questions if one person looks at another and looks like he's happy he thinks that he is like that by himself, for example Yes might think

but he might think that he created if he knows the primary cause and effect he understands that, for example, happiness has been achieved in another and another one looks at the option if he doesn't know the person at all he can say as if he were an outside observer

can say that the other is happy because he 's just a happy person because he feels good inside because he perceives the World Reality there and so happily perceives but he himself is just a happy person It's not clear why at all for external observation but nevertheless it is considered good i.e. it is perceived as a positive element yes his condition and it turns out that if we consider it exactly this construction of Eternal development we'll just transfer ourselves as if in control on the structure of Eternal development we ourselves are in it so we have to model it yes to be transported how to create parallel development so here is the level of permanent reservation in the happiness of Eternal development this is a special level

I showed the transfer of two systems to show that God is backing up the system all the time if a person is happy somewhere so there is ^{roughly} the same thing but ^{as} a reserve

so it turns out that we are transferring again the same point of view there is an observer there is a happy man first option the observer knows the reason ^{yes} and understands why he is happy achieved something through his work or just happy due to events knows the reason but in Eternal development cause and final effect in Infinite understanding they coincide a person can manage and ^{as if} to close into one point i.e. God does the same the person falls into the category ^{of} a second person that he doesn't ^{seem} to know the information but sees that he is happy observer and it turns out that between the state of any happiness ^{practically} no differences for external perception hence there is another sign of happiness of Eternal development this is sameness or monotony of perception i.e. everyone is happy society ^{well like} happy people ^{yes} this is what it looks like ideally or a society that realizes happiness due to the internal state i.e. people behave normally and calmly but they are happy inside Well, maybe someone is having fun openly but that's his personal business and it turns out that when we see Well, this is some kind of collaboration, yes this is the inner glow of happiness where there is precise confidence and precise control

we receive already in the distance collegially formalized a clear element of the future well, some kind of city of future governance or there is the Reality of the future but this Reality will definitely come true people understand that this Reality exists i.e. she is there yes and then we can Reality, generally speaking, moves closer to oneself not by building something or by tightening some screws and mechanisms are created through a collective management system social mechanisms there which in principle can't be like that that high-tech systems are being created that do not destroy people but we must keep in mind here that a person then has a colossal opportunity to control Reality simply due to the system of one's own Consciousness and when he understands this, he understands that everything from this moment on it will definitely not be destroyed there is some kind of nuclear weapon there our own production, and so on and so forth.

i.e. a person understands that he has learned to handle force as if with the means that may affect it and this is generally speaking a certain level of stability

Well as if long-term happiness yes i.e. we have moved on to the concept of that that in the happiness of Eternal development there are matching values before this we talked more Well, that's basically what I was specifically pointing out differences and here are the coincidences now starting from this moment what does happiness coincide with for example, a regular local one

time when we talk about a time interval there is long-term happiness then it is the same

Well, it's logically clear we take an interval there of a certain number of years for example 5 years and we believe that there is happiness here and in the future we build it simply what is in Eternal development what's local 5 years they are 5 years the same everything is perceived by a person so it turns out that we as soon as we enter the time parameter we equate the concept of "local" there is "Infinite" happiness or there is "Eternal" manifested only in the form of internal systems of personality yes as if intuitive happiness for a person it turns out that the introduction of time it's still a kind of equalization

God He gives equal rights so it turns out if you think about it in what is the thread of time yes why did god create time there movement of events, some planets, etc.

so that a person reacts it means some kind of cause-and-effect system yes then you can see inside time this golden thread Well, actually, there is no time as such i.e. we distinguish the concept of "time" speculatively and we want in this design in this design by the way time stands out like a golden thread within the very concept of "time" and this certain golden thread which has access to any information object time reaches any object of information also one of the principles of time allocation when everything is spread out in space there are some actions one moment in time comes for almost all elements of Reality from the point of view of human perception so time is still access ^{yes} to any element of information at the same moment Well of course it's a speculative access but still access and but for us what is speculative what is management for God it's the same thing we can take and do the management through this element this means we need to highlight it qualitatively time but which has the property of simultaneity for all if logically it is already clear there in a second all the phenomena in Reality occurred this second for all phenomena Well, in all phenomena she is one and the same she is alone ^{yes} we understand that but in information we need to be able to identify this and here you can use it align tool

and ^{there is} local happiness to take on two levels for example on the difference and on coincidences for example when there is a duration be able to analyze, as it were, an object of information i.e. we take the concept of "the next second" ^{there} they took it there on the clock and remembered it just a second one second after I said some word ^{there} here she is

we have that one second it happened then we take this second and put it on for ^{example there is} a system of difference
and happiness, ^{for example,} of some private systems there some scales ^{yes} they are equalized

that happiness is local it's all the same again and as I said as a system of equalization this is the introduction of time then it turns out that the point if we put it for luck exactly ^{as if} Eternal development ^{yes} this time point she's practically ^{well there} if there is a slight fluctuation stabilizes immediately but if we put on local happiness then the point in time begins ^{to} bend i.e. the weight increases the further in time the greater the weight of events ^{yes} i.e. practically this point begins to enter ^{how to} feed the following events ^{and ours} and it turns out that we have enough introduce here a similar, i.e. coinciding, element of happiness temporal

i.e. time actually ^{yes} is entered at the exact time the interval is entered at the point and then we get namely the Infinitely Developed World where all processes are stable because we work element of that time ^{means} which has the same properties that this matrix system of happiness which we saw when we were talking about that that from it through a person the entire material world arises i.e. the structure of time and happiness is the same and we understand in this management we can do it like this and we see that we can then control time i.e. as soon as we equalize the structures ^{yes} ^{Well,} technologically I showed the technology of equalization simple enough more analogous then we begin to manage time but then since we can control time what's the difference let's make the processes like this that people will be Eternally living people i.e. it's just a common technology, ^{yes} equalized the happiness of Eternal development and time as such and it is always Infinite received a universal control system i.e. it is also a very powerful management tool because after some time you can enter into all the events, etc., etc.

and here as a control try to do the following definitely needs to be done management structure through the happiness of Eternal development make it universal any structure not only time

any other structure can be managed in this way through happiness you can control any other structure as mandatory access control only by equalizing the properties of the control environment and then you will see that happiness is still a universal device which, among other things, It's also nice because it's still happiness and not some other state

This is where I end today's seminar.

Thank you very much for your attention
