The Teaching about God
The process of human creation 19.01.2005

Hello again
the topic of my seminar today This is the Teaching about God

in this topic i show firstly that level when God when He creates man It defines a certain process, i.e. a certain action , yes for example, if you ask yourself a question how did God, for example, set the task for Himself there, yes create a man and how, for example, does this action even happen?

Well, this is just a kind of speculative picture what does god mean and in front of Him stands a man, for example Yes the first action means but then man is already created i.e. in the Perception of a person a person always exists because if for example you ask yourself the question and what does he look like then it's still somewhere in the information, yes i.e. a person is always in Perception if he already exists also for God when He is yes, well as if the same level of a person i.e. this is what the creation process looks like it's not like God took it there, for example let's say he made a hand movement and started to build something, let's say yes or create there it is a process of action, and simultaneous action and Perceptions and that the result already exists

Well, it's some kind of unusual situation however, from the point of view of human perception this is first of all, generally speaking, his memory

So memory carries these functions exactly well as if interactions i.e. inside the memory it is possible to interact with different systems and practically well there to model some systems remember, etc.

i.e. here to build memory we need to create some kind of history and development example, if there is one moment in time then what is memory anyway memory is a certain system of events or some system of Perception but human perception goes through time and so if we ask ourselves the question how God perceives from the point of view that God is in a single moment also has the concept of "memory" i.e. if for a person this is still the flow of time and at the same time to perceive at all I need to spend some more time at least it is considered so then for God there is no time at all the concept of "memory" still exists i.e. it turns out God Well, in a logical human understanding always remembers Himself even in cases where there is no information at all, yes i.e. one point

hence the process of creation of God here from a human point of view it's a process well as if an external omnipresent process in such an abstract sense in theory at least and it turns out that, for example, there to create an organ we need to work exactly at this level i.e. at a somewhat external level i.e. at a level which in principle the organ itself is not generally affected because if you get into the organ and how will you get out of there then ? without damaging the organ it turns out that you have to work somewhere outside and here there is a very simple concept "memory" or as if a memory of that so that in this place there is an organ in neighboring organs or knowledge that there is an organ here in the neighboring organs i.e. the process of mutual creation

it is still a process and mutual creation various body systems even in neighboring cells if you think about it , for example why do similar substances exist at all molecular motion creates a uniform system here one molecule creates or perceives another monotonous

and at some point there is a gap yes God got distracted God created one type of matter and when we start moving forward then there can be no distractions within God It is also a monolithic level of management.

therefore man concentrated within himself well, at the external level of some final actions concrete body yes autonomous concentrated in himself the Infinity of God's Action i.e. it turns out that just like that, well as if to distract attention and one substance was obtained another distraction for God and another substance was obtained i.e. you can count how many times God was distracted ^{yes} in a single concentration it turns out and so many substances arose of different types initially and then He

for example, it concentrates on some other substance and the following systems arise but the following systems are more complicated This includes social events, life development, etc. i.e. it turns out we can trace the way of God's gaze but then this question arises why is god looking somewhere specifically why exactly does he look like that ^{yes} and then you can see that's why humans are designed this way from God's point of view i.e. God naturally understands completely ^{yes} how a person is structured from his point of view but we can come closer to understanding Him and understand that He is designed well, actually, as a process of knowing God i.e. so that God ^{would it means} to model, ^{say,} the process of cognition because He knows everything anyway it turns out that He should in this case see someone's knowledge then He will know through that that another person will learn just about anything i.e. It has the structure of its Perception and he develops a level of knowledge which in principle is ^{well , basically} the same as a person's so that God may receive knowledge He must become a man, it turns out. and get this knowledge ^{as if from the outside} ^{yes} at the expense of the knowledge of others but then it turns out as He knows Infinite amount of knowledge He must first of all then also pass it on to others sufficient quantity to get the next level of human knowledge and ^{how to} perceive ^{yes} create a system for yourself the next human development but in Eternity

therefore the process of creation of man by God this is still a process of human action i.e. not some kind of ^{thing} we'll say ^{there} some kind of possessive one some kind of instantaneous levels of action God takes something with his hand, ^{for example} Yes how i started with that something specifically creates this namely, the human level human level God created man and when you start to understand this structure then it turns out that what's the difference you can also create on a human level it is the process of creation itself at least you can create a process here and when you create a process then the process can be controlled precisely he can create an organ he can restore health ^{yes} he can resurrect, i.e. resurrection occurs ^{Well, not necessarily} in principle this only applies to humans then it can be extended to other phenomena of Reality and here a fundamental question arises for God another element of Reality this is not the process of creating a human being at all by the way, this process is often completely remote there is a man standing next to him there is a blade of grass literally touches ^{there for example} his shoes ^{yes} but for God this is an infinitely distant process from a person this blade of grass so with all this in mind there, shoes, for example, are already a process of human action it is close from the point of view of a person process

so when you create a control i.e. to manage through the process of creating a person here you can level well as if mutual or distant concentrations of target concentrations hold as if in one bundle at the same time i.e. you can have many concentrations many control systems and keep them as if on the same level just bringing the concentration closer periodically to myself but as if leaving them in place i.e. by an effort of will bringing it closer but the concentrations themselves, the levels of the actions revealed, they are in place in the first act are preserved then in the second they get more and more compressed in the third even more in this way you reach the level of God's Action i.e. when you sync with how God does you are doing it right but God does in relation to you here's to understand where do you do and where does God do God is making things easy for you i.e. when you clearly understand the concept of "towards" you can generally just collect yourself there modeling let's assume there the shape of the skull there you can kind of change the structure Well, within the limits of the human image, let's say structure of appearance, etc.

i.e. here a very plastic one arises interaction system or grow up ^{there} and somehow regulate yourself there but again, within your limits, after all physiological norm ^{so to speak} Yes your parameters of Infinite development because to understand how can a person change, well , just externally, ^{or something like that} you just need the vector of Eternity this Infinite system of external light ^{means} which affects a person this light just needs to be directed ^{at everything} ^{Well} as if towards oneself at high speed then you see why you look like that i.e. every person has an appearance which from the point of view of his personality can provide virtually Eternal namely the development of the Eternal life of the physical body this characteristic is embedded in a person's appearance and when, ^{for example,} a person ^{suffers} in terms of some organs there, ^{yes} ^{let's say} if you take a piece of skin there and damage it on your finger why does it all ^{seem to be} folded if we proceed from the external control system not from the fact that, ^{for example} , the body has regeneration systems and from principles, ^{as it were,} external, connected with the organism i.e. we have the right to consider the process as autonomous but we have the right to look from the outside, of course so from the outside this is interaction any organ of any system precisely with the Eternal level of counter information with the Eternal level of one's own development ^{in fact} but that doesn't mean that you're somewhere ahead ^{there} informationally in this case you are in information it is a single system i.e. you are talking about yourself when you are in exactly one place and you don't have any ^{other} third parallel systems, etc. you are specifically like an ordinary person are in one place and this is precisely the counter movement of information it gives such an understanding after all, information is Eternal say that there is some kind of ray there or let's assume some kind of optical movement has a finite value it is obviously impossible for a person he perceives any external information as a kind of Eternal Environment you can think about it, well , yes, there is a star shining there or there is the sun but to say that it is not the Eternal that shines it is forbidden

i.e. a person somewhere has a completely clear understanding what is Eternity and what does it look like and if we have some subject for knowledge then what's the difference Is it eternity or is it some kind of object? you can learn and use it to your advantage well, i.e. to become Eternal yes it works it turns out that a person actually perceives at the level of, as it were, body logic here it is very clearly expressed it is the logic of the body i.e. here the element of Eternity is perceived as if by the mind of the human body it's not like he thinks or does anything there let him think as he perceives Thinking yes Human

but it is precisely the mind of the body i.e. the body is also smart in relation to, for example , the Soul here the Soul can see the mind of the body i.e. the Soul can, in principle, analyze and count and draw conclusions yes the body is smart it did the right thing now as well as you can speak there about myself , yes

a person can talk about himself and i.e. there is a system of external analysis but any situation is like that that a person is one and generally speaking he is one with all levels of information and that's when you see this unity there is a next level of the process of creating a human being unity is the creation of the Eternity of information in Infinite Development

Push

i.e. the person is here can create the Eternal element there because i said he can study eternity and when he sees these bricks of Eternity then it turns out that it's not necessarily bricks just some areas of information but in principle in some cases can be visualized as literally ordinary well, let's say burnt bricks can be visualized

Here is a simple example why the bulk of buildings built at brick level yes well, there is a certain force of gravity, an optimal shape there , etc., etc.

If you think about it, houses there often stand for a long time comparable systems with Eternity or stones that are supposed to be closer to square form

so it turns out that here if we draw an analogy with the level of these very forms this is when a person perceives Eternity what he sees first he sees something similar to the image of a brick here it turns out that the parallelogram is some kind which is often very useful canonical, laconic, as it were, form i.e. very clearly identified information and if we are talking about brick then the image of a brick can be used there or simply an area of information, etc. so if we are talking about a parallelogram when we ^{assume} we have control going there through the sound form then we get here that that sound can also be transformed in principle into the form of ^{the} element of Eternity although the sound is pronounced but nevertheless if we do management through sound form then here we get, as ^{it were}, the form of Eternity too, ^{yes} For example the same brick but at an infinite distance i.e. the dynamic form gives this structure of Eternity but at an infinite distance i.e. there we see a rigid static form example, we collected these bricks, ^{yes} Here we have building material so what can we do

let's say we can put it in a net and tie a knot ^{there} in a string bag and let this radiation of Eternity shine you need to warm yourself up periodically, ^{for example} , etc. in principle it is also useful but it is a one-time action so but if we ^{for example} we'll try ^{our best} make the body eternal ^{well like} "right off the bat" right away ^{yes} then in principle many people can succeed at this point they can only one level of Eternity ^{is enough} put it somewhere into the desired body structure and it turns out that the body at this moment is Eternal if a person does not forget it i.e. tries to remember and maintains control then basically he's ^{been around} for so long How long does he remember this path ? that's how long he is Eternal i.e. at this moment there is no event system can't change anything about him At this moment he is healthy, things are going well for him i.e. he can be, for example, happy if he wants to, etc. i.e. he controls the situation and he did the mechanical action I took Eternity there , for example , and stuck a patch on my arm and that's all it turns out that this is the process of creating a person it's not always a process associated only with , for example, Spiritual action or with the action of the Soul This is often common logic and that's when we suppose we ask ourselves the question how does God logically build man that there, for example, some details are sorted out he's looking at something and he kind of sits there and builds it for example here here it turns out that the element of action is yes the initial one is exactly like that i.e. when God was a child He was building something. but every action of His builds a person it turns out that God perceives it like a child this is action something is doing some kind of movement of the figures there are dominoes or chess but any of His actions is the construction of a person and it was precisely in the childhood of God it is clearly shown that when Well, "in childhood" means when exactly as a person in normal human childhood so here it turns out that He is very clear projects to the Self-Building System on the system of further development to understand the World ^{yes} in the form of a child ^{there} and further action

so every person who remembers childhood at least one element that he did something ^{there} he began to study some action This is where the element of study is important he was building himself up at that moment too and often explicitly implicitly he often determined his own further actions and that's when a person begins to analyze when exactly in childhood did he start to learn something then this is a very powerful mechanism in fact, even the construction of organs i.e. in this system it is possible to change organs of an adult ^{well} for children too

To do this you just need to tune in to it that through growth ^{Well}, it's childhood ^{well}, at the level of information, at the level of Eternity this is development i.e. the Eternal Man develops ^{yes} and when there is an element of Eternity the question arises where is it developing in general? when a person is Eternal, where else can he develop?

childhood is such a unique moment when the Eternal Man also ^{seems to be} developing somewhere ^{Well}, it's growing. physiologically it is clear that it should grow i.e. this is how Reality works but from the point of view of the aspect of this material ^{there} are properties of the matter of Eternity in Eternity any element is Eternal it ^{seems} to have no initial point of origin ^{in fact} that's why man always exists it is enough to consider one element of Eternity and it turns out that man also comes from God the lines are clearly visible here although a person is born, for example, biologically but where it is, these lines are always very clearly visible this is what is the initial level the fate of man something that can be transformed if here is the question how to change fate yes This is where you can change your destiny there well it means to improve there for example yes if there are any problematic events you can go into this structure and make management by the way, I'm showing this with my hand specific points

This is the area I am talking about she looks so bluish it can be palpated, it can be filmed on a video camera You can literally mark it out there point by point and calculate it or there in general, to see what size it is, etc.

and so when you have a clear geometric system, and in optics change of structure of fate and fate is all events after all change of influence on fate it is not only the influence on one particular event and if you want to improve your fate you should understand right away that you are affecting the entire system of connections at once you could say that yes, you can influence events yes, at the same time there is an influence on the concept as in the private understanding of "fate" but as a rule management is considered here the one-time management has improved, well and good fate is fate in itself and it denotes more general concepts that's why there is control which is called "influence on destiny" this is a separate type of management where all events of a person's life are affected in the Infinitely Remote Region so fate is the way out in the Infinitely Remote System of Human Development into an infinitely distant region from oneself that's why this system is perceived as destiny an event line that is connected continuously and is removed to the Infinite System and here in order to influence fate it needs to be in ^{this} logical understanding your light the light of your personality of your physical body was so calm and dynamic i.e. he is you here and at the same time there light of action to your peace of mind i.e. the glow near the body is the glow in the Infinite level it would still be background i.e. the same as everyone else's here, as it turned out, the determining parameter is improvements ^{yes} it turns out to be a normalization of the position of fate there is a level of general management level i.e. "everyone" is doing well, you should be doing better too i.e. if you are ^{with} everyone [...] ^{well} as if you are doing standardization then your fate is improving from a logical point of view, yes, you can do it all control everyone has knowledge fewer opportunities to carry out a possible global catastrophe and it turns out that ^{Well,} this is an improvement in fate in this case and it turns out that there are points where the destinies ^{of} people are connected that's exactly why, ^{for example,} there would be no possible global catastrophe which is possible in principle for everyone, etc.

and here are the bundles of people's destinies this is an element of this same Eternity those. concentrated system deep internal interaction basically, like all people Radical Eternity

all people but in the future and often in the Infinitely distant future but manifested here near the person so here is the manifestation of man in the Infinite future this is the form of man himself this is the man himself

i.e. the same as God Infinitely Remote Image organizes Himself and this difference is like a click from the Image to the person almost imperceptibly for a person so a person practically constantly organizes himself he has it like a lighthouse orientation is on the Infinite region and all he has to do is forget about it somewhere or get distracted he may have some diseases, problems, etc.

i.e. as soon as he sees the Infinity line in the form of a glow it can be directed there to the heart, for example, primarily on some organ or just perceived speculatively, so to speak that's fine he just has to do some household chores somewhere and he starts to get distracted often but nevertheless a person must do household chores I must be distracted, understandably and therefore there is a level here which God looks like as a principle of self-development of the next system yes

God created man some kind of animal system and then comes self-development and here is the level of self-development this is the presence of God as the next action for example in biological form yes and the level of possible further action i.e. for Infinite development any animals, plants and people there they are on equal status of communication contact

Well, in telepathy you can talk to any system and well at least understand yes if you can say that this is a conversation and enter, in principle, into the dialogue system can be adjusted

why is a dialog system good here is some information yes verbal or some other she you can see how it develops and comes to you you can see how the word is pronounced but you can take and stop the flow and it won't affect you the word was spoken but it did not touch you you've done all the event management and therefore it turns out that why is it primary that the word was primary if the word is good please let it come the person has a good event if it, for example, carries negative information some negative yes for a person for his future a person can simply avoid or screen this phrase all All

the phrase does not reach the person therefore, in the process of creating man It is very important that external information is controlled but then he must clearly highlight your own internal area where is he himself, what will he do?

Well, a person does a lot of things and he doesn't have to concentrate all the time there to think about something there to invent for that to be constantly, well, sort of, present in the active management system ^{yes} how to profile something all the time but there are situations when it needs to be done but to do this always need a reason i.e. well, either he is cured or some complex events but it is a natural state should not differ from the management level Naturally, a person must always save himself too. he should also, as it were, technologically This is ^{generally} better perceived to convey such a state to others and it turns out that when we do management precisely in Eternal development then here is exactly what is going on as if from the Infinite Future to us this is the level that actually well, for example, when treating diseases you need the person to be healthy some time ^{and} specific and here comes from the Infinite Future This is the level that a person regulates but already at the level of, as it were, one's own speculative action those. not even the actions of the Soul, for example ^{yes} as such in optics namely speculative from the point of view ^{of a kind of} investigative system of the mind i.e. the mind can undertake completely different actions and it turns out that this is, as it were, a somewhat investigative element i.e. it is considered that the body Spirit Consciousness ^{is there} and there is an action of the mind of a logical type so here is the action of the mind in general any logical action let's say some processes should lead to a uniform level of management i.e. with God any process

First of all, it always focuses in the structure of any action secondly, it always leads to management with multi-reserve level well with the Infinite level actually i.e. its Infinite Primary Level gives control and there is a projection into the Infinite action

Of course it is clear here that any element can be converted by structure it means Well as if further management, yes , i.e.

but besides man

Here is a person who is a completely free personality and a person can only be taught to force something is unrealistic for Eternal development he must learn and here is where the following problem arises as if at the creation of man we can consider the level of systematicity as if it is the necessity of creating man i.e. any person should be able to generally speaking, to systematically create another equal i.e. to help another in events

how to help improve events need to consider how did God create this particular person and what events were set before him but then in order for this process of creation at least to understand the process well, as a kind of technological cycle , so to speak here it is necessary to understand, in general, from the point of view of logic, so to speak from the point of view of human logic who wants well from the point of view of the logic of the people around him

Well , that is, the systemic nature emerges precisely logically i.e. why exactly logically because there is precisely the principle of systematicity in the logic itself and when you, for example, practically put management task

i.e. to be able to manage in any situation while doing something do a lot of things there [...] concentrate , etc.

here arises this is the level of continuity of action i.e. in any action it means you get in fact, let's say so Infinite level of control

This Infinite level gives this is the light then well there is a vertical one, light blue and this light, in principle, exists as a space of constant management i.e. as soon as you entered it then any action i.e. any level of human creation this is already a level well as if the next job i.e. the person is under control he is in control all the time i.e. he is getting healthier all the time all the time helps with some basic tasks and at some more distant level, for example so he also does target management i.e. there is target management and this is like this target management in fact, it is not being implemented through an intermediate level constant human control too i.e. the space in which a person acts is the space of its control in the current tense and this is very convenient by the way because the person is in the control system as there is a level of just concentration you can concentrate get action yes and you can, for example, enter the control space and due to the fact that you are in this space you are constantly improving but when you improve something in you is cured if there are any health problems or things are getting better you kind of control them internally, yes For example there from the level of the spleen you can select some organ and control it so from the pancreas for example Yes you can sort of consider the levels what is the pancreas for example it works there in prognostication you can take the information then 15 years before the event and the spleen, for example, is there for 7 i.e. you can look directly how does this light go into the future development system and when you see these light levels which come to you from the future and touch some organs that's exactly the structure of the organs interaction of organs this is how a person interacts with the future i.e. to cure something, to standardize it need to see how your level of development fits in with the future with the Eternal Future and this is the future the most important thing is to be able to research clearly in the Eternal Future the elements of development are the same that there are specific places specific tasks and that's when we see development as if the vectors of light to Infinity and from one human capillary, for example, yes then we already come to exactly that that the creation of man it is , as it were, a product of his own Thinking in fact and projected there onto all metagalaxies to all organs, to all connections , cells, etc., etc.

and in the end we get yes himself it's just that this is the process we observed as if in a different state of the autonomous system there cell types this process should be at the information level why did God give man thinking yes and therefore because in Thinking it is possible to have discrete systems but in reality man is monolithic and it turns out that well, if you ask the question and what could be other than Thinking, yes is it possible to do anything at all if there is no Thinking then but in principle this is such a question, it is peculiar can you do something, for example , tell a person but at the same time he can clearly take and at this moment don't think about anything, for example

Well, how does a person take in air? and can go under water at this moment he is not breathing, that means and can endure for some time and then breathe again the same can be taken for example thought concentrate put somewhere and for example, consider that at this moment there is no active process of Thinking

but the action takes place and then it turns out that Well, first of all, this requires a good level of control to do it like this Well, in principle you can learn sometimes in a short time you just need to set the task take and control Thinking there is Thinking or is it possible to somehow compensate for this process?

next action
i.e. how to make a structure means well similar to Thinking then here it turns out what if we for example then we will make such control that we will model a structure similar to Thinking so it turns out that we can in principle, model the level of control such that whatever we do if we hold the control system as both a primary and a reference point of control then any action leads to improvement next action

to improve there Macro level and here it turns out what is the process of human creation this is the level when the action even something that is not spoken about, for example Yes which doesn't exist or something from the point of view of objective systems this action is at an optimal level of development those. unmanifest action this is another law of creation of man precisely in terms of the process i.e., precisely as if in sequence and time and in general there is still something we can consider here that the level is like the next action yes from the primary action this is the level that is being created and by God and man i.e. if we are in the process of creating man we see that there is one level that a person has, for example Yes he ^{well} can be active there he can be a manager and if we do it right he is always the manager but it is precisely the presence of God in management it is also visible as the action of light and when we look ^{for example} on the process of creating a human being precisely from the optical magnitude then it turns out that the optics themselves are like that that management can be at some point very sparse i.e. a person exercises control because God acts and in what at some point there is human action i.e. a person sees the structure, ^{which means} his own ^{yes} physical body and at some point he sees that God is acting on him i.e. ^{as if} the management of God's Action is going on and this is natural control i.e. a natural human action and ^{for example} Well ^{as if} he thinks that this is the person thinks that this is a natural action but God's action is still help ^{as if} external and action but God created man for God there is no external action in relation to man ^{means} any action to God this is the act of creation, among other things therefore God can be found ^{well} in action and in the process of creation in the process of creation inside a person

but the next one so there is the following every action this is the process of ^{actually} creating a person like, well, in the next tense for God but already causal and consequential not instantaneous ^{as if} at the information level namely, cause and effect and when we consider this is exactly when God does the management and the process is as if instantaneous all the time He takes upon Himself Means or is it this level of management creates in real time, as it were every micromolecule from a human point of view, etc. the man himself this is one process and here is also cause and effect where structures are visible inside a person exactly like this and Infinite and finite action i.e. we see how the management should be done so that there for example, to understand the internal organs to be able to improve their health if necessary there and thus move on to the structure when can you get healthy for example, the whole body and physical at once i.e. it turns out that we it is precisely in the process of creating man we can highlight the instant action and action for example there is discrete but cause and effect yes may not be discrete but in general it's just a cause-and-effect action and it turns out that when you see these are the processes and I made them like that on purpose that he placed in different information systems to show that at the moment of action There is always a control area and you can be in this area to be there all the time means but at the same time it means a difference this is the control area from the usual level of Thinking in that that it really influences events here to show this system necessary in the process of creating a human being set the next influence level in relation to the person himself i.e. the physical body of a person influences or by means of the management of Thinking ^{yes} but at the same time there is still such a level what we need is the action itself, ^{yes} the very action of Consciousness to make it the controller then we get some kind of closed, ^{so to speak,} sphere but inside which it happens this is ^{like} packaging of information of different types i.e. we may not indicate all actions on one level but we can understand them there in the Infinite Future or now understanding in the Infinite Future such a phenomenon exists you see this level of information coming at you from Infinity and it turns out that this level is basically like this what ^{does it mean} here we have ^{well,} actually, ^{let's say it} 's a certain property ^{or something} when you can describe a process of some ^{kind} complex that can't be described this is how to describe the initial action before the creation of man basically I showed this space it exists but in order to describe it we need to talk ^{about} systems which are beginning to develop then they ^{kind of} with information ^{well as if} they disappear somewhere i.e. we put the phrase and then we put the next phrase and phrases can be discrete but they can work in the same space it is possible in the same space put phrases and the next ones they just disappear somewhere

Well, it means that the system Of course, she doesn't disappear anywhere but the system is dissipating and here you are faced with a task build everything from scratch including structure of Perception structure of action there is a communication management structure for example, various objects of Reality the structure of the construction of speech events there , etc.

and then this element appears that such structures of course exist in humans initially for example, a person can actually materialize there here are some systems there in events or in the form of matter and at the same time just constant control this is what is a jump from one region to another in management

i.e. I can set one control area say yes then without talking it might be logical the entire line of control although I look at it quickly jumped to another system, just another one and here is the level between the two systems this is the level of the process of continuous management where there are, as it were, jumps between different control systems or target systems

this is your level of control which does not require special concentration i.e. if there is, for example, a concept , for example, yes "control through special concentration" then in principle of course there should be concepts that "management without any special concentration" i.e. by itself and here it turns out that the very process of creating a person it is to be able to combine discrete systems which are often not logically united they arise and management is done they seem to dissipate and so this kind of logical control system or some other one to combine into a cause-and-effect structure i.e. take two break phrases and in management and be able to make a cause-and-effect system out of them then you are already optimizing your events i.e. this is by the way one of the methods for example there are two molecules God took them there, brought them together and received the following system next substance and it turns out that when we speak the cause-and-effect relationships directly there when we talk about the fact that, for example, discrete systems yes start working one way or another then we see that there is a region which does not carry primary information at all here is the process of creation of man here yet or it's not needed here it's just that man has already been created and this area is the most how much does it often act on the structure of a person i.e. the area interacts with that area where man has not yet been created and it turns out that in logic for example, the more people the less such seemingly undefined areas and thus, according to the Law of interdependence of energy there development the more matter there is for some action i.e. for example , to get some kind of material information, yes optical environment glow sufficient for some action need this glow in fact, as if to recreate in the Infinite Future and actually get such a control system that the Infinite quantity is placed in a finite one

Well, so that this system can be created In principle, it is necessary that this is the goal of management, yes For example was constantly visualized i.e. why are we doing it combination of infinite finite quantities why do we do the combination some abstract quantities some light-optical systems with each other expressing this for example in words there , etc.

i.e. when we are in the process of creating a human being we begin to see this kind of linear control logic i.e. why do we do management from one level to another then in principle we can create any system to the level of its organization i.e. it is possible to form a person's Perception already on a specific system of actions on a specific development system i.e. we can say quite clearly that a person who, for example, it means he wants to sequence of events to assemble as if from nothing yes i.e. well for example, looking at what exists the ability to create discrete areas yes that these areas in principle This means they can work more efficiently. if there are cause and effect relationships there are no established between them then in the very process of creating man we see that the creation of some levels of writing there, yes some digital systems of some Reality it is still, like, an instantaneous action of someone Well, well as if to look whose then yes it is God's action but we can see that there is a kind of recognition this is exactly the situation how is God's action recognized

For example there you are

well let's assume at the level of another person yes and when you start to see how is it that already as a result of this lecture as a seminary action you start as if by an effort of will see how is God's action recognized by you in the process of creating man then you see it almost naturally full event management and so these events

Well, in principle they are controlled absolutely accurately and here is the abstract logic, yes where phenomena are not connected i.e. they can be different you can say one word, second, third and these are different control systems are united into a system of internal action into the organization system future for your body

i.e. how would you cut yourself in this way space and create space for yourself to realize yourself i.e. any systems denote target management system that the system of action is logical that the system of action is kind of abstract yes that the system is simply Thinking or the system of inaction and here in the process of creating man when you see the Soul level which includes all these systems then you can say everything quite well that you can be self-created i.e. you can create such a control that your body will be completely understandable to you events are completely under control and then you achieve absolutely correct target management

This is where I end today's seminar.

Thank you very much for your attention
